GENERAL NEWS.

The President's Condition still Improving.

SEVERE STORMS IN THE NORTHWEST AND MASSACHUSETTS.

Great Demand for Immigrant Labor in the East and South—Mormon Effort in Pennsylvania—Executions—Etc., Etc.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EXECUTIVE MANSION, July 22.

8:30 A. M.—The president rested well during the night, and is quite easy this morning. Pulse, 88; temperature, 98.4; respiration, 17.

1 P. M.—The progress of the president toward recovery continues without interruption. His nourishment to-day included milk, meat juice, toast and a little roast beef. He has rested quietly throughout the day, dozing at intervals, and has had no fever. At this hour his pulse is 92, temperature and respiration normal. The president fears, but surgeons do not, that the bullet may have injured his spine, and may cripple him. Dr. Bliss says that he has little doubt of the location of the ball, and there are some indications of its becoming encysted. The surgeons have decided to forbid cabinet officers from visiting the president daily. The president gains strength since the fever lessened but slowly, because of the waste by drainage.

7:30 P. M.—The progress of the president's case continues without material change. At 1 P. M. his pulse was 98, temperature 98.4, respiration 18; at 7 P. M., pulse 98, temperature 100.2, respiration 19.

11:30 P. M.—The president's afternoon fever did not abate as early to-night as heretofore. There was a slight rise in his pulse and temperature between 9 and 10. These symptoms, however, did not long continue and at this hour the fever is subsiding. The patient's skin is moist and he is sleeping quietly. The slight aggravation of febrile symptoms after the last official bulletin are regarded by attending surgeons as merely temporary.

The President's Condition.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The following was sent this morning to the consul by the president's private secretary: "The improvement in the president's condition continues. He slept well during the night, the cool weather being greatly in his favor. This morning his pulse is 88, with normal temperature and respiration. The nourishment now being administered more than supplies the waste, and while it is probable that he is daily adding a little to his strength, still it is found that his system is not yet capable of resisting unusual excitement, and the surgeons [illegible] upon as perfect repose as can be secured."

The president continues his steady improvement. The wound to-day discharged more patches of clothing, carried into it by the ball. A piece of bone cut off from the rib and driven into the wound also came out to-day. Surgeons feel specially gratified at this, as it shows that the wound is draining out thoroughly clear to where the ball lies, and that everything in the nature of a foreign or irritating substance is being forced out. The wound could not be healing better. The patches of cloths discharged today were both woolen and cotton, being fibers of the shirt and coat worn by the president.

Able to Hear the News.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The president hears now the greater part of the daily papers read, that is, all of the things likely to be of interest to him. Both Mrs. Garfield and Col. Rockwell read to him. Besides, the colonel is beginning to read to him the telegrams and letters which were received at the time of the shooting. Inquiring messages and sympathetic letters from his personal friends have been read to him. In these of course he is deeply interested, but from his near friends all this might have been expected. So when he hears messages and letters from every portion of the union, and from men of different political opinions, all showing the same solicitude as to his condition, he is deeply impressed, and says it is more than he could expect.

Still Doing Well.

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The president had another good day and is doing well to-night. Dr. Reyburn said to a reporter to-night that he had just examined the president and that he was getting along finely. The discharge of pus and cloth shows that the wound is drained out to the bottom. It continues to heal nicely inside. Dr. Reyburn said that it was impossible to say just when the president would be able to take a sea voyage, but surgeons hope to get him aboard ship soon and at the present rate of progress continues he will probably start in three or four weeks.

Immigrants in Demand.

NEW YORK, July 21.—An unusually large crowd of immigrants swarmed at Castle Garden yesterday. An increasing number of applications for help are being received in the labor department for all parts of the country. Servants and workingmen are in pressing demand. In fact it was impossible to supply the wants of the country. For the six months ending June 1st, 10,000 men and 5000 women were sent away from the labor bureau, Castle Garden, to different parts of the United States. The fruit-growers' association of Sumner county, Florida, sent a communication asking for able bodied workingmen to be forwarded to them immediately, to work in the orange groves and gardens of that county. Similar letters were received from other parts of the south and west. Fifty immigrants were sent to the Kansas City smelting works in Missouri, and fifty more are expected to leave to-day to work on the Texas Pacific Railway, where they are to have $1 50 a day for two months, then to receive the wages of the country. Out of their first installment of wages, $8 50 is to be deducted for the expense of transporting them to Texas. The superintendent of the labor bureau says that he has stopped answering letters asking for labor, as it is impossible to fill orders. There are applications on file now for more than 500 house servants, and for any amount of female factory hands to go south, where it is said that hands can make from $4 to $8 per week in factories.

Mormon Enterprise.

The N. Y. Times' Hyde Park, (Penn) special says, Not content with wholesale importation of Scandinavian proselytes the Mormons are working vigorously among the miners of the anthracite region for converts to the alleged religion of Joseph Smith. Their efforts are principally directed to the proselyting of the Welsh people. Their progress, however, is exceedingly slow of late although about a decade ago they managed to gather up about 200 converts to mormondom in this valley. Two intelligent missionaries are now in this place and we have a branch church, of which Elder Ezras H. [illegible] is the head. This section is to some extent considered sacred in Utah, as one of the "Apostles" labored years ago in Susquehanna county, only a few miles distant from where Jos. Smith flourished for a time, and where Orson Pratt lingered in 1831.

Billy the Kid.

NEW YORK, July 22.—There is a general belief in the Fourth ward that "Billy the Kid" was born and brought up in that ward. The dispatch announcing his death reported that his real name was McCarthy. The Fourth-warder's name was McCarthy. A Sun reporter last night talked with some Fourth-warders, all of whom had known McCarthy. They were all of the opinion that he and "Billy the Kid" were identical. "There is one way to make sure of it," said one of the group. "McCarthy, when ten years old, was badly burned with acid, and was treated at the Chambers street hospital, and I think it must have scarred the upper part of one of his legs and body."

Severe Weather in Massachusetts.

BOSTON, July 22.—Dispatches indicate that a heavy thunder storm to-day did considerable damage in eastern Massachusetts. Lightning struck in many places, burning a number of barns, killing several horses, shattering flagstaffs, telegraph poles, trees, etc., and a large quantity of window glass was broken by flying missiles and hail-stones. Half a dozen prostrations of people are reported, but no fatal cases. At New Bedford a schooner was struck and her mizzen topmast splintered. John Shandy, steward, was knocked senseless and the mate injured.

Train Ditched.

CHICAGO, July 22.—A freight train on the Milwaukee division of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad ran into a washout this morning, ditching an engine and seven cars and killing a brakeman, Edward Hughes. The wreck delays traffic greatly.

Severe Storm in the Northwest.

Several cases are reported this morning of lightning striking in the city, but there was no great damage. Reports come in from all over the northwest, showing that yesterday was intensely hot in most places and that the storm, when it came, was one of the most severe ever experienced, being a combination of lightning, thunder and heavy rain. Many cases of strokes by lightning are mentioned and some disastrous. Two telegraph operators died at their work.

The Sprague Affair.

PROVIDENCE, July 22.—The Sprague affair is further complicated by attachment of the real estate of the Quinebaug company by Wm. King & Sons, cotton dealers, claiming half a million.

The Big Bridge.

ST. LOUIS, July 22.—It is authoritatively stated to-night that the Missouri Pacific and Wabash railroad have leased the bridge across the Mississippi river here for 99 years. The precise terms of the lease have not transpired. The bridge company will be operated as heretofore and all roads will have the benefit of it. There will probably be some change in officers.

Fire at Lock Haven, Pa.

LOCK HAVEN, July 22.—The [illegible] pulp and paper mills burned to-day [illegible]; insurance $20,000 to $70,000; Armstrong & Dixon, Philadelphia, owners.

Trouble Feared at the Navajo Agency.

SANTA FE, July 22.—All the employes at the Navajo agency have left, owing to [illegible] of the Indians [illegible] general massacre. It is believed at military headquarters here that [illegible] unpopular agent will be either murdered or forced to leave the reservation.

A Public Benefactor.

The principal towns of New Mexico are raising funds for [illegible] for services to the territory in ridding "Billy the Kid."

A Dastardly Scheme.

KANSAS CITY, July 22.—The wreck of a west bound train [illegible] near Lawrence [illegible] which an express [illegible] The track had been broken [illegible] the break, wrecking [illegible].

Boys Drowned.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 22.—[illegible] Johnson, John Howard and [illegible], all boys, were drowned while bathing [illegible].

Charley, 11 year old son of W. H. Cushing, was drowned at Middleboro.

Convicted of Murder.

DANVILLE, July 22.—Joe W[illegible] has been found guilty of the murder of J. [illegible] Arthur, of this county last spring. Jury composed of 8 whites and 4 negroes.

Executions.

CLINTON, Mo., July 22.—John W. Patterson, who murdered Jas. G. [illegible] near Leesburg, Henry county, December 1, 1878, was hanged here this morning in the presence of 5000 people, a half mile from town. He made no speech except thanking the sheriff for his kindness. He died in [illegible] minutes, his neck being broken. He eluded arrest for ten years after the crime, and was taken in [illegible], Illinois. The case has been delayed ever since by legal proceedings.

Murderers Hanged.

CHICAGO, July 22.—The Journal has a special from Marysville, Missouri, saying that the Talbot boys were hanged there to-day for the murder of their father.

In Memory of the Confederate Dead.

CULPEPPER, Va., July 22.—The monument to the confederate dead was unveiled to-day before a large crowd and in a storm. Addresses were made by several confederate generals. The occasion was very noteworthy.

A Violent Storm.

BROCKTON, Mass., July 21.—One of the most violent thunder storms ever known in this vicinity occurred this afternoon. The storm was accompanied by a terrific shower of hailstones varying from a half to one inch in diameter and doing a large amount of damage. Reports from surrounding towns indicate unusual damage.

A Good Riddance.

ANTONITO, Col., July 21.—Antonito has been infested for several months with a gang of robbers, who have robbed all strangers coming into town. The gang has to-night been broken up by hanging the principal, [illegible] W. C. O'Connor, who, in [illegible] capacity of justice of the peace, shielded them and had citizens arrested and fined without law or provocation. Last evening [illegible] came from [illegible]. He fell asleep, and became [illegible] at his destination he had the brakeman arrested. He then went to the Raymond house and [illegible] the proprietor with a revolver, and after abusing the proprietor went home. This evening the [illegible] reached its limit when O'Connor rode through town on horseback with a Winchester rifle and two revolvers, threatening everybody. A vigilance committee caught him in his saloon and hung him in a slaughter house.

Big Suits for Libel against a Newspaper.

DENVER, July 22.—Two more libel suits for $100,000 each have been entered against the Tribune Publishing Company. There are now four suits, for the aggregate amount of $400,000, filed against the Tribune company, one having been filed by the Denver and New Orleans Railroad Company, and three by ex-Governor John Evans, its president. These suits are based on the Tribune's attacks on Gov. Evans and the management of the New Orleans railroad.

Cholera at Des Moines.

DES MOINES, July 22.—A case pronounced to be Asiatic cholera was discovered in East Des Moines today. It will probably be fatal.

Base Ball.

BUFFALO, July 22.—Clevelands 6, Buffalos 4.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Postal Matters.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The postmaster general notifies all postmasters that their quarterly accounts must be forwarded as the law requires immediately at the close of every quarter. Delays will be no longer tolerated. Failure to comply will be cause for removal.

Conscience Money.

U. S. Treasurer Gilfillan today received from a missionary of Bradford, Vt., one hundred dollars, conscience money. The sender explained that he served as chaplain in the army during the rebellion and was of the opinion that the method of computing forage was not a proper one, and he concluded that he had received the above sum in excess of what was rightfully due him.

The Mint Investigation.

Secretary Windom telegraphed to Sherman Houghton, San Jose, Cal., and Congressman Thomas J. Young, now on the Pacific Coast, requesting them to act with ex-Secretary Ramsey in investigation of charges preferred against Dodge of the San Francisco mint.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

Deplorable State of Affairs in Russia.

LONDON, July 22.—Private advices from St. Petersburg report that the nihilists are everywhere active and that Gen. Ignatieff's efforts to destroy their organization meet with no success. The czar is still immured in the castle at Peterhof. He visits St. Petersburg occasionally, but the press is forbidden to record his movements in advance. As expected, Hessy Helfmann's sentence has been commuted to Siberia for life. The child to which she was delivered is not dead, as reported. The condition of the provinces is appalling. The Siberian plague is ravaging the western and southern districts and peasants everywhere are in despair. The nihilists are working in rural districts with great success, and before long the peasantry will be as ripe for insurrection as the townspeople. Nothing but the vast military organization and the terrors practiced by the police stays the torrent of revolution.

Conflicting Views.

LONDON, July 22.—Sir Michael Hicks Beach will on Monday move that in the opinion of the house the course pursued by the government in regard to the rising in the Transvaal, which so far as yet explained to parliament, has resulted in the loss of valuable lives without vindicating the authority of the crown, is fraught with danger to the future, peace and safety of her majesty's dominions in South Africa, and fails to provide for the fulfillment of obligations contracted by England towards European settlers and natives of the Transvaal. Rathbone, liberal, will move an amendment as follows: That the house, believing the continuance of the war in the Transvaal would not have advanced the honor or interests of England, approves the steps taken by the government to effect a peaceful settlement and feels confident that every care will be taken to guard the interests of the natives, provide full liberty and equal treatment for the entire white population and promote harmony and good will among the various races of South Africa.

Impertinent Prints.

LONDON, July 22.—The Standard reprints from the United Irishman, Sunday Democrat, Irish World and Irish American a column and a half of extracts in praise and recommendation of outrages against England. The article is headed, "Science of Dynamite." The Standard prefaces its article as follows: "Whatever the government of the United States may think on the subject, leaders of Irish agitation in America regard themselves in a state of declared war with England."

Bradlaugh.

Bradlaugh has called a meeting of his supporters.

Clarke vs. Bradlaugh.

In the case of Clark vs. Bradlaugh before a special jury on action to recover £500 penalty for having sat and voted in the house of commons without taking the parliamentary oath, the jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff. The only question for the jury was whether the writ in this suit was actually issued after or before Bradlaugh voted in the house.

Business Failures.

Durie, Potter & Son, merchants of Liverpool in the Brazilian trade, have suspended; liabilities estimated at £150,000. The suspension also stops the firm of Julius Mosenthal & Co., merchants at London and Paris; liabilities unknown.

Scarcity of Water in France.

PARIS, July 22.—Weather moderate; scarcity of water continues; also a short supply of water at Bordeaux, Lyons and Rouen.

Committed for Trial.

LONDON, July 21.—Arthur Lefroy, accused of the murder of T. J. Gould in the Brighton railway express June 27th has been committed for trial.

An American Wins.

At the Windmess athletic sports to-day, Meyers, an American, won the quarter and half mile races with ridiculous ease, the former in 53 4-5 seconds and the latter in 2 minutes, and 5 seconds. His racing is regarded as marvelous.

Cable Landed.

The steamer Faraday has landed the shore end of the Atlantic cable near Lands End.

Favorably Received.

DURBAN NATAL, July 21.—The report of a serious hitch in the negotiations of the Transvaal convention is untrue. A draft of the convention has been submitted to the Boers. It was favorably received with the exception of the 18th clause which it was expected would be modified.

The Boer Settlement.

DURBAN, July 22.—The draft of a convention prepared by the royal commission, virtually retrocedes the whole of the Transvaal to the Boers. The total of claims which the Boers are disposed to accept does not exceed £500,000. The draft has not yet been accepted by the Boers who are still considering the clauses relating to the natives and finances.

Pacific Indication.

PARIS, July 22.—Baron Menochetti, Italian charge d'affaires has been appointed commander of the legion of honor. Newspapers consider that this indicates a conciliatory feeling of France towards Italy.

In the Interest of Laborers.

LONDON, July 22.—In the house the committee added to the land bill a clause for the allotment of land to and building of cottages for laborers. After [illegible] Foster's clause was added giving power to the court [illegible] for the determination [illegible] to impose conditions as to laborers' cottages [illegible] providing that the land commission shall make their report to the viceroy in regard to their proceedings.

Entirely Amicable.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 22.—Relations between France and Turkey are considered excellent. The porte has satisfactorily explained the despatch of troops to Tripoli and assured it would not be hostile [illegible] towards France; that it had nothing to do with the agitation with Algeria and Tunis and will prevent all intrigues or endeavors to foment disturbances in neighboring countries.

WEST INDIES.

Bank Robbed by its Clerks.

HAVANA, July 22.—Two employes of the branch office at Matanzas of the Spanish bank of Cuba fled with two accomplices on board the Spanish steamer Alvarado, which one of the accomplices chartered under the pretense that he intended to ship cattle from Alvarado, Mexico. The employes robbed the office of $220,000 in specie. The bank officers say that the amount stolen is not fully ascertained. The Alvarado left Matanzas on the 10th.

Counterfeiters Captured.

The police have captured four counterfeiters with machinery for making Spanish, American and Mexican coins.

Deadly Diseases.

Yellow fever and small pox are epidemic at Vera Cruz.

Smallpox in San Domingo.

HAVANA, July 22.—Smallpox is raging in San Domingo to a fearful extent. Parties are daily organized to help bury the victims.

Died.

LONDON, July 22.—Courcis, Catholic archbishop of Egypt, died while en route to Italy.

THE AGONY OVER.

Congressman Lapham Elected to Succeed Roscoe Conkling

BY THE UNANIMOUS REPUBLICAN VOTE.

The Stalwarts Force a Caucus which Soon Settles the Matter—Other Political Matters, etc., etc., etc.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 22, 1881.

The stalwarts announced that the democrats would hold a conference [illegible]. The republicans would hold a conference [illegible] after the convention rose.

Senator Jacobs moved that the joint convention take a recess till half past one o'clock. Carried.

ALBANY, July 22.—The republicans met in convention this afternoon. [illegible] senators and 72 assemblymen were present.

Skinner moved that [illegible] for the purpose of nominating a U. S. senator. [illegible] moved [illegible] a caucus for this afternoon [illegible] a special committee [illegible] stalwarts would [illegible] objected [illegible] Robertson said that [illegible] He was for union and harmony [illegible] Pitts said that the past should be forgotten. He wanted the roll called and each member to announce his choice. [illegible] at 4 P. M. [illegible] hands over the bright prospects [illegible]. Recess [illegible] P. M.

At [illegible] the republican conference reassembled in the [illegible] McCarthy in the chair. [illegible] roll was called and 71 senators and assemblymen answered. Skinner renewed his motion [illegible] nothing that the roll be called and [illegible] in his place [illegible] vote [illegible] Lapham was named [illegible], Conkling [illegible], Woodford [illegible] Winslow [illegible] three times.

After the conference [illegible] for Senator Woodford [illegible] the terms of the [illegible].

Holbert said: "[illegible] republicans of this state [illegible] first and [illegible] afterwards. (Applause.) I am happy at this result." [illegible] would lower, [illegible]. He concluded amid great applause. [illegible] Pitts made a spirited and happy speech. [illegible] the House "Then here's a hand [illegible]," which was received with three cheers. Other speeches followed, and the conference [illegible] adjourned.

[illegible] convention [illegible] with the following result: Senate, Lapham 22, Potter 5; Assembly, Lapham [illegible], Potter [illegible]; total—Lapham [illegible], Potter 42. Necessary to a choice 68. The chair announced the election of Elbridge G. Lapham in the place of Roscoe Conkling, resigned, and the joint assembly dissolved. Cheers for Lapham, Miller, Garfield, Conkling and Potter followed. The Legislature agreed to adjourn sine die Tuesday, 26th.

In the assembly a resolution was tabled that $2,000 alleged to have been paid to a member [illegible] and in the custody of the committee [illegible] be handed over to the widows and orphans [illegible] killed at the new capitol.

The Status of the next Congress.

NEW YORK, July 22.—Speaking of the possibility of the democrats organizing the next house, the Times' Washington special shows that careful returns show that there were elected to the 47th congress as distinctive republicans, 151 members, democrats 131, greenbackers 9, and readjusters 2. Since the election the republicans have lost [illegible] Lapham, 1 member, N. Y., Ferry of Michigan, Frye of Maine, and Morton, Miller and Lapham of New York, and gained one in the election of a successor to Ferry, thus leaving the republicans [illegible]. The vote at [illegible] leave the present republican number at up 147, or the exact number necessary to constitute a quorum over a full house of 293 members. Since the election the democrats have lost 2 members by death, Wood of New York and O'Connor of South Carolina. O'Connor's seat is disputed by his republican competitor, Mackey, and all testimony in the contest was completed before O'Connor's death. Deducting these two vacancies, Wood and O'Connor, from the democratic members leaves their number 129. The nine members classified as greenbackers are Murch and Ladd of Maine, [illegible], Burrows and [illegible] Smith of New York, Brumm of Pennsylvania and Jones of Texas. Of these nine [illegible], Burrows and Brumm were elected as greenback republicans, each of them defeating regular democratic candidates. Ladd, Murch, Ford and Jones were members of the last congress and may be regarded as distinctive greenbackers with democratic inclinations. Smith was chosen as a democratic greenbacker, but cannot with any degree of certainty be classified as between the two great parties. The two readjusters are also uncertain as to political identity, but it is very probable that they will not be induced to act with the democrats.

THE TURF.

Races at Saratoga.

SARATOGA, July 22.—¾ mile. Won by Valparaiso, Thora 2d; time, 1:15¼.

Dash 1¾ miles: Ripple 1, Saunterer 2d; time, 3:08¾.

Half mile match race: Vampire won in 4[illegible] seconds; Ida second.

No Races at Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 22.—An immense force is busy at the race track this morning and afternoon putting it into condition for the races to-morrow. Another heavy thunder storm to-night has rendered their efforts useless. There will be no racing to-morrow. The storms of the last three days have been marked by almost unparalleled displays of lightning which has illuminated the sky for hours at a time with almost one continual flash. A very considerable quantity of rain has fallen, and reports from outside the city indicate that there have been many deaths from lightning strokes.

The Derby Winner.

Iroquois will not run in the Goodwood races but will in the St. Leger.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

Fast Horses and Faster Women.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—A number of rumors have been in circulation regarding the sudden disappearance of Henry F. Lewis, a clerk in the Anglo-Californian bank. It is now pretty well settled that he is a defaulter to the amount of about $30,000, invested in fast horses and faster women.

Sad Suicide.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—A German named Bernard Lerlich, 36 years old, stationer 232 Mission street, shot himself at North Beach at 2 P. M., with a revolver to the right temple, the ball coming out at the left temple. His death was instantaneous. He left a wife and three children. In a letter he told his wife that he killed himself because he could not support his family.

The Prison Investigation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—In the state prison investigation to-day, W. H. Harsey, sheriff of Sutter Co., testified that he went to San Quentin to arrest one McNeal on the day McNeal was to have been liberated from prison. He arrested McNeal and was going from the prison with him when the captain of the guard took the prisoner and kept him, sometime later, upon inquiring for the prisoner he found that he had escaped by going around the prison and fleeing to San Rafael hills. Harsey did not connect Warden Ames with the affair, but supposed that the captain of the guard colluded with McNeal for the escape. Warden Hackman of the prison, said that he was told that Ames had agreed to consult the directors about appointments at San Quentin. Warden Ames was examined as to his theory of prison discipline. Governor Perkins, testified that the name of each director appointed by him was canvassed, and he gave the reasons why each appointment was made. David Porter gave the history of the sale of land to the state for a brick yard. He denied having said that it cost him half he received for the land to sell it to the prison directors. Senator Watson swore that the directors lobbied through the legislature the bill giving them $100 a month each.

Failures for the Week.

The failure record of the week includes between eighty and ninety cases, nearly half in the western states. In the south there have been only seven business casualties and these of little or no consequence. In the middle states twenty-eight dealers succumbed and in the eastern nine. In New York city out of ten cases there are none of any consequence.

DECISION IN U. S. CIRCUIT COURT BY JUDGE DEADY

DEADY, J.

[illegible] F. M. Hunnason [illegible] William Logan [illegible] had an agent [illegible] with said Hunnason [illegible] August 1, 1861 [illegible] in the penal sum of $25,000, and [illegible] conditioned that said Logan would [illegible]

[illegible]

It was agreed [illegible] 1879 [illegible] June 2, 1880 [illegible]

On February [illegible] 1881, the case was tried with a jury and a verdict [illegible].

On the trial the plaintiff [illegible] which the bonds were executed [illegible] the complaint and then offered in evidence the transcript [illegible] W. C. Moody, H. P. Isaacs [illegible] Hunnason [illegible] the treasury [illegible] on April 20, 1878, in pursuance of § 882 of the R. S. [illegible]

The execution of the [illegible] defendants being denied by the answer, the introduction of the transcript was objected to [illegible] the R. S. instead of [illegible]

The plaintiff [illegible]

In the case of the U. S. v. H. P. Isaacs, being an action upon the same [illegible] there was a stipulation that it should abide the event of this action, and thereupon an order was made directing the latter to be entered on the entry of the trial and verdict of the former; and the case of the U. S. v. O. S. Savage, another surety in the same bonds, standing upon a similar stipulation, was also entitled in such order.

On April 11 the plaintiff filed a motion for a new trial which was argued and submitted on May 11.

It is not claimed that the court erred in refusing to allow the plaintiff to become nonsuit.

By § 243 of the Or. code a nonsuit cannot be granted on the motion of the plaintiff, only before trial or afterwards with the consent of the defendant; and the later and better rule of the common law is to the same effect. Whenever the trial has been commenced the right of the plaintiff to become nonsuit and vex and harass the defendant with another action for the same cause, is gone. Fuller v. The Robert G. Shaw 2 W. A. M. 531.

The power to grant a new trial is sufficient to prevent a failure of justice in the cases where a nonsuit was formerly suffered by the plaintiff to meet a surprise caused by the failure of evidence or an unexpected ruling of the court; in which proceeding the court may impose such terms and conditions upon the moving party as a due regard to the rights and convenience of the other may require.

Neither is it claimed that the court erred in refusing to admit the copies of the alleged bonds in evidence. It is admitted that a copy of a bond certified under said § 882, is evidence of the execution of such bond when the same is denied, but that it must be certified under § 886 by the register, subject to the right of the defendant to call for the production of the original instrument.

But a new trial as in the case of Hunnason is asked for on the ground of "accident" on the part of the secretary of the treasury in certifying the copies of the bonds upon which the action [illegible] ought under § 882 of the R. S. instead of § 886 thereof, "which mistake was not discovered by the attorney for the United States, until at the trial, when the error was first discovered, the papers in the case having not been forwarded to the attorney for the United States by the department of justice at Washington."

These certificates were made nearly three years before the trial and the answer denying the execution of the bonds, and which first made it necessary to have copies of them certified by the register of the treasury, under § 886, was filed on August 6, 1879—at least 18 months before the trial.

Upon this state of facts there is no ground to claim that the plaintiff was in contemplation of law surprised at the trial by the rejection of the copies of the bonds. The secretary of the treasury did not by either "accident" or mistake certify to copies of the bonds under the wrong section. When he made his certificate it was not known that the execution of the bonds would be denied; neither was the secretary authorized to make a certificate under any other section than the one he did. Besides the mistake or "accident" of the secretary, if any, is the mistake or accident of the plaintiff, whose officer and agent he is.

The copies of the bonds certified by the secretary were furnished to the district attorney together with a transcript of the treasury books, accounts of the agent and affidavits relating to them, to enable him to bring the proper action thereon; and when an issue of fact, if any, was made thereon, it then became his duty to procure the proper evidence for the trial thereof. So when the defendant denied the execution of the bonds, the burden of proof being cast upon the plaintiff, it was the duty of the district attorney to procure the proper evidence of such execution: a copy of the bonds certified by the register of the treasury under § 886, before going to trial.

No excuse is given or offered for this negligence. The probability is that it occurred from inadvertence in not observing or bearing in mind the provision in the statute or the denial in the answer, or both. But in either case the omission is the negligence of the plaintiff for which a new trial ought not to be granted, at least not unless what is sometimes called "the justice of the case" strongly demands it, and then only upon terms compensatory to the adverse party.

But upon a careful examination of the treasury transcripts and the circumstances of the case as shown in the pleadings, I do not think the ends of justice demand a new trial in this case, but the contrary.

In this view of the matter the execution of the bonds by Hunnason may be admitted. The denial by the defendant is only a constructive one at best—a denial of "knowledge or information sufficient to form a belief" upon the question—and it may be taken for granted that upon a new trial the plaintiff would be able to establish that fact beyond a doubt.

But the default of the principal, if any, and his death occurred near 14 years before this [illegible]

[illegible] $5781 01 [illegible] March 31, 1865 [illegible] May 19, 1865 [illegible] $4781 [illegible] $973 74 [illegible] $1500 [illegible]

[illegible] drowned [illegible] It is quite certain, that the business of the agency went on as usual during the quarter, and that the funds applicable to the payment and subsistence of employes and current expenses were disbursed by the [illegible] in charge for the quarter ending June 30 1865. It is very probable that the portion of the funds on hand and applicable to the erection of the buildings being erected on the agency were largely expended during this quarter. It was not the policy of the department or the law to advance an agent at any time, more funds than were needed for the expenditures of the current quarter.

The probabilities then are, that this sum of $5781 01, that agent Logan reported on hands on March 31, 1865, was all or nearly all expended on the reservation by the end of the quarter following, and that upon the death of himself and wife there was no one left with interest enough in his affairs to have his accounts for the period subsequent to March 31, 1865, made up and forwarded to the department with the proper vouchers. The remainder $1897 65 is made up in the treasury statement in this way.

On April 29, and May 8, 1865, Logan appears to have receipted to Superintendent Huntington for the sums of $2500 and $500 respectively, and on May 19 1865, the superintendent's checks on the assistant treasurer, at San Francisco, for the sums of $2000 and $1000 respectively, and dated May 5, 1865, payable to William Logan or bearer, were paid to bearer, whoever that may have been, at that office. It seems to be admitted or taken for granted in the treasury statement that these two checks represent the money that Logan receipted to the superintendent for as above stated and this I think is very probable. The discrepancy in dates and amounts between the receipts and checks probably arose from the fact that the receipts were not taken until sometime after the checks were given, and it may be not until after Logan's death, when blanks were filled up for the gross amount with conjectural dates and sums to serve as a voucher for the use of the superintendent.

By the treasury statement, Logan is charged under his second bond with this $3000 in addition to the amount which it appears from his accounts that he received under said bond; and, also, the sum of $217 38 differences between his account current of disbursements between July 1, 1862 and March 31, 1865, amounting to near $50,000, and the audit of the treasury, arising principally from trifling errors in calculation and the non-payment or deduction of the small sums due the income tax from the salary or subsistence of the employes on the reservation during that period, together with $179 11 for the property purchased in the first quarter of 1865 and not taken up on his property returns on account probably of his absence and sudden death.

From this amount is deducted the salary due the agent from April 1, to July 19, 1865, the assumed date of his death, $489 13 and the $973 74 aforesaid, in the agent's hands on June 30, 1861, under his first bond, and carried in his account on July 1, 1861, to the credit of the United States under his second bond, and $29 98 which I have not discovered the origin of; the total of the debits being $3395 49 and the credits 1497 84, leaving the balance as above stated of $1897 65.

One of the defenses to this action is in effect that Logan was carrying $5000 of the funds unaccounted for to Oregon as the agent of the plaintiff when he was drowned, which was lost without his fault or negligence. But by the schedule of checks drawn by Superintendent Huntington on the assistant treasurer in San Francisco between May 1, and July 31, 1865, it does not appear, that within this period any other checks in favor of Logan were paid than the two above mentioned for $3000, except one for $10,000, drawn on June 10, and paid to Logan on June 20, 1865. This latter check appears to have been drawn for the use of the superintendent, and although the proceeds appear to have been received by Logan more than two weeks before he sailed for Oregon it may be admitted that he had the amount in currency with him when he was drowned, and that it was then lost without his fault or that of the superintendent. Upon this theory the act of July 12, 1876, (19 Stat., 417) has been passed for the relief of the deceased superintendent's sureties, by which the accounting officers of the treasury are directed to credit his accounts with the amount provided satisfactory proof is made of the loss.

But Logan is not charged with this $10,000, and the question of its loss is immaterial so far as his accounts are concerned.

It does not appear that Logan had any of the $3000 received on the two checks dated May 5 and paid May 19 in his custody when he was lost. He does not appear to have gone to San Francisco before June, and probably left Oregon about the tenth of that month—the date of the $10,000 check—and therefore these two checks must have been drawn and paid before he went to San Francisco. There is then, no probable ground on which it can be claimed

The Daily Oregonian.

ALIS VOLAT PROPRIIS.

When the prediction is made by a southern congressman that "the son of old Abe Lincoln, the present secretary of war, will be president of the United States" it is a statement contrary to the advice of Hosea Biglow, who said, "Never prophesy unless you know;" it is nevertheless true that a good many persons have it in contemplation to make Mr. Lincoln the republican candidate in 1884 and of course it is not impossible that the plan may succeed. It is not supposed that there is the slightest reason to suppose that he is a party to any such scheme. It is remarked that Mr. Lincoln has succeeded rather conspicuously in performing the difficult task of being a great man's son to the satisfaction of the people. While practicing law modestly and prosperously in Chicago numerous efforts were made to tempt him into public life, and there has been no time, it is said, during the past ten years when he might not have had a seat in congress merely by expressing a willingness to accept it, but with a single exception he has declined to be a candidate for office. The exception was highly creditable to him. It became evident that his name might be of great assistance to the taxpayers of Chicago in relieving the municipal government from the domination of a rascally gang and he therefore consented to become a candidate for supervisor of south Chicago. He was elected, performed the task he had entered upon with great firmness and determination and that end accomplished, resigned. His call to the cabinet was wholly without his procurement and his acceptance was entirely proper and commendable.

However, it is the case that the men who are trying to make him President in 1884 are not basing their hope of success principally upon the fact that in the stations of life in which he has been placed he has always been true and faithful, but upon the fame of his father, a circumstance that raises in the minds of a good many people the question of heredity in politics, and whether it can be safely regarded in our political system. There has been so far very little of it, but circumstances have possibly contributed to that fact. Three of all the presidents, acquired in the office a degree of popularity which might have been transmitted to a second generation. Washington, Jefferson and Jackson left no son. The only instance of a father and son attaining to the office of president was the case of the two Adamses, and it would be a violent assumption to say that the popularity of John made John Quincy president. John Adams retired to private life a very unpopular man, and while history has to a degree vindicated him, he had by no means been restored to popular favor when his son became president. Moreover the latter was not chosen by the people but by the house of representatives. Charles Francis Adams, of the third generation in this family from the presidential term, though a man of marked ability and an undoubted aspirant for the high place, has been unable to make any headway to the seat filled by two of his ancestors.

In some of the states there has been more of this succession of one member of a family by another. Notably in Delaware, Senator Bayard sits where his father, his grandfather and his grand-uncle sat before. One of the senatorships from that state is considered by some as being a sort of heirloom in the Bayard family. A. C. Dodge, one of the first senators from Iowa, sat in the senate with his father, Henry Dodge, who then represented Wisconsin in that body; but that possesses no significance. But there will always be a sort of wholesome jealousy on the part of the people about carrying hereditary principles into the choice of chief magistrate. In the case of Mr. Lincoln the time is remote, and he will probably have a chance to show to the country whether he could fill the highest position with the ability and honor which he has shown in those less exalted. Those who are trying to force him into candidacy by a sort of hot house process, should know that older men than he, and men of wider fame, have had their chances ruined by injudicious urging of their claims by over-zealous friends. If a father had trained and educated a son, imparting to him the lessons and instilling into his mind the principles which should make that son great, the father might take a part of that greatness to his own credit, but the son can never assume greatness because his father possessed it; nor will the American people ever allow anything like succession in families to obtain in our political affairs, however much they may honor his father's memory or honor him for his own meritorious qualities. He must "fly with his own wings."

The election of Mr. Lapham by the New York legislature as senator to succeed Conkling and against the bitterest opposition which the latter could make, is probably the last nail in the coffin wherein lie dead all of the bosses' political hopes. He resigned in order to seek a vindication at the hands of his constituency, presuming on the power of his prior dictatorial methods to compel his re-election, which he would have claimed as a justification for his abuse of the president. That "vindication" has come in an unexpected quarter, and he is now left to resign himself to his fate and go over to the democrats or to find his way back into the republican party as an humble voter. His political demise ought to teach the bosses and the advocates of the boss system in other states that the people are beginning to arrogate too much of the spirit of independence of thought and action in political matters to follow the beck of self-assumed political leaders. Lapham's election is a triumph of the people against the robber system in politics; Conkling was at the head of this system. The animal's backbone measured the distance from him to some of our Oregon politicians.

The building of the overland railways was a gigantic work which was pushed through with remarkable vigor, and in a short length of time. But that is surpassed by the energy and activity with which the Denver & Rio Grande railway management is rushing the work on that line. The company has called for 10,000 men, and agencies have been established in different countries in Europe to hasten the securing of the complement of laborers. Steady employment for two years at good wages is promised, and an average of over a hundred men are reporting daily under contract with the railroad people. The same kind of an impulse it is expected will soon be imparted by Mr. Villard to the work on the Northern Pacific.

The supreme court of Wisconsin has just decided in a suit growing out of a wheat speculation that a contract for the sale and delivery of grain or anything else at a future day is valid if the parties to it really intend to deliver and receive the commodity, but not if the purchaser is merely to receive or pay the difference between the contract and the market price. In other words a legitimate business transaction will be recognized and protected by the courts; a purely speculative one will be treated as a species of gambling, which it really is.

The election of Lapham to the senate from New York leaves a fourth vacancy in the congressional representation from that state; two existing before the election of Miller. The legislature, however, has provided for special elections to fill these vacancies. Between her general election for governor, her quadrennial contest over the presidency, important city campaigns and special elections for filling vacancies the people in the Empire State are kept awake pretty much all the time.

Thrice a score of times have we said in these columns, that the writer's name was necessary to assure the insertion of any communication in THE OREGONIAN; not that the name need be published, but the rule is peremptory, hence some correspondence signed "S. M. A." has found its way into the waste basket.

Col. Bob Ingersoll has found his match in a controversial point of view on the subject of christianity in the person of Judge J. S. Black. The August number of the North American Review contains a discussion between them which is highly interesting.

The senatorial seats from New York are filled, the president is in a fair way to recover and Conkling and Guiteau are the two worst disappointed men in the country.

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING, JULY 23, 1881.

OREGONIAN AT THE RESORTS.—Parties can have THE DAILY OREGONIAN sent to them at any of the seaside resorts, at $1 per month, on leaving their address at the business office of this paper.

CITY.

NEARLY [illegible] BURGLAR.—Mr. George Silmaier, who rooms with Mr. Richard Knoll, at a Mr. Bethel's, on Third street, between Alder and Washington, left his room last evening about 7 o'clock to go out calling. He was detained several hours, and did not return to his room until 11:30. He was accompanied by Knoll. When they came past the window looking into Silmaier's room, he was greatly surprised to see a light, and, observing more closely, saw a stranger going through [illegible]. Silmaier entered the front of his room, but the burglar was too rapid for him. Hearing footsteps, the thief leaped out through an open window. However, he reckoned without his host, for Knoll, who remained outside, sprang forward and grasped the fleeing burglar. The latter made desperate efforts to escape, but Knoll held on to him firmly. Silmaier came quickly to the rescue, and the two men overpowered the thief and threw him down. They signaled for a police officer, and Hoffline and Stephenson soon appeared on the scene. The burglar was taken to the city jail and to-day will have an examination. He gave his name as Barta at Easter. He is a discharged soldier and was arrested on July 8th and fined for making a disturbance. On searching him, a pair of gold worth-less sleeve buttons belonging to Silmaier was found.

[illegible] OF AN OREGON[illegible].—Rev. James Worth, a minister of the United Presbyterian church died in Halsey, Linn county, Monday, July 18, in the 83d year of his age. Mr. Worth was a graduate of Miami university, Oxford, Ohio; also, of the Theological seminary, Allegheny, Pa. He was ordained a gospel minister in the Associate Reform church in 1820, and was pastor for some years of a church in Sterling Hill, Indiana. In 1852 he emigrated to Oregon and was pastor at Camp creek, Eugene City and Brownsville, endeared by his labors to all who knew him. Of late years he has not been in [illegible] work, but has done efficient service as a supply at intervals for Rev. Mr. Wilson and others. His death was the result of a fever contracted in consequence of a severe wound in the foot, occasioned by his stepping on a nail about five weeks ago. A wife, with whom he had lived fifty-two years, and two sons, with hosts of friends, are living to love the memory of this good and useful man. The funeral services were conducted in the Halsey U. P. church, before a large concourse of people on Wednesday last, Rev. T. J. Wilson officiating, assisted by Rev. S. G. Irvine, D. D., Rev. A. M. Acheson and Rev. T. L. Sails.

APPLICATION FOR RELEASE.—The case of Wm. Mackey who made an application for release from custody came up before United States Commissioner H. H. Lamson, and was argued. Hon. Geo. H. Williams and W. W. Page appeared for the defendant, Mackey, and R. Mallory represented the government. About one month ago Mackey was tried in the United States district court on a charge of passing obscene matter through the mails, and convicted. There were two counts in the indictment upon both of which he was found guilty. He was sentenced to pay a nominal fine in default of the payment of which he was sent to jail. Having served thirty days he came forward and made the statement that he is unable to liquidate. The holding of Commissioner Lamson is that Mackey must serve thirty days for each count in the indictment upon which he was convicted, hence he was remanded back to jail.

THE LECTURE.—The lecture delivered last evening at Y. M. C. A. hall by Dr. Truesdell, was attended by a large and intelligent audience. The subject—"Magnetism"—was handled in a manner which indicated a thorough knowledge of the theme on the part of the lecturer. Dr. Truesdell gave a number of striking exhibitions of the power of mind over matter, in relieving persons of pain, removing paralysis and other ailments. A committee composed of physicians and lawyers was appointed who investigated each case, and demonstrated that there was no deception in the matter. The lecture was listened to with close attention, and proved interesting and profitable to all. Dr. Truesdell will lecture this afternoon before the Ladies' Christian Union on the occasion of the organization of a juvenile anti tobacco and rum society.

AN ADVANTAGEOUS OFFER.—The Telegraph says: "Maj. A. F. Sears, who was the efficient engineer on the narrow gauge railroad, yesterday received a dispatch from the president of the Mexican Central railway company limited, making a decidedly advantageous offer for him to enter the service of that enterprise in the adjoining republic. Maj. Sears will accept this offer and start for Mexico on the next steamer."

FUTURE MOVEMENTS.—The Mendelssohn Quintette Club will leave here Monday morning for a short trip up the Columbia. They will appear Monday and Tuesday evenings at The Dalles, Thursday and Friday evenings at Walla Walla, and Saturday evening at Dayton. Returning to Portland, the club will appear at Salem Aug. 2d, Eugene City 3d, and Albany 4th.

TEMPERANCE.—The usual open temperance meeting will take place at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock this evening. Several short and interesting addresses will be delivered and suitable music provided. The friends of the cause are requested and the public invited to be present.

FOR THE NORTH.—Owing to the disablement of the steamer California, the P. C. S. S. Co's steamer Los Angeles will leave San Francisco for Port Townsend, Victoria, Fort Wrangel, Nanaimo, Sitka and Takon mines, on August 1st. For freight or passage apply to J. McCraken & Co.

HANDSOME BADGE.—Mr. A. G. Walling has just completed some very handsome badges for the life members of the Northwestern District Agricultural Association. The badges are lithographed on satin ribbon and are models of neatness and taste.

LAW CLUB.—The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Multnomah Law Club was held last evening at the office of Sears & Gammans. Mr. J. M. Bower read a well-considered and interesting essay on the subject of "Judicial Legislation."

WORK COMMENCED.—Yesterday Ben. Smith commenced anew the contract of clearing the way for the O. R. & N. Co.'s railroad between Portland and The Dalles. The work will be crowded forward to completion.

THE STEAMERS.—A dispatch from Astoria last evening at 7:30 o'clock states that the Columbia had crossed to sea in the afternoon. Up to that time the Oregon had not been sighted off the bar.

EXCURSION TO-DAY.—A large party of excursionists will visit Portland to-day from Albany. The excursion will be given under the auspices of the Albany German Aid society.

A SUGGESTION.

PORTLAND, July 22, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

A great many of our citizens would like to go to the coast during the summer, but the present facilities oblige them to be away from their establishments two business days of the week. If the O. R. & N. Co. would have a boat leave here Friday evening to arrive Saturday morning and leave there Sunday evening to arrive early Monday morning, they will find that a great many would go several times during the summer, and some would go that cannot go as they have it arranged at present. L.

MATTERS SOCIAL.

EPITOME OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS IN AND ABOUT PORTLAND.

A Number of Pleasant Little Events of Various Kinds—List of those at Wilhoit Springs and other Resorts, etc.

The annual rush to the seaside is not so early this year as last—probably on account of the remarkably agreeable weather here. We understand that about fifty persons will leave to-day for the mouth of the Columbia by regular and special boats. A number of little parties [illegible] are making arrangements to spend the summer in the mountains, and on Puget Sound. Following is our [illegible] summary:

PERSONAL.

Gen. and Mrs. [illegible] B. Darly are in the city.

Mr. P. Kimball, of Walla Walla, is at the Esmond.

Mrs. W. P. [illegible] is visiting her parents in Yamhill county.

Mr. [illegible] Marsh of the Dalles is visiting the city.

Mr. C. [illegible] will leave Monday for the sea shore [illegible].

Miss Katie Norton is visiting friends at St. Paul, Marion county.

Miss Alice Forsyth of Salem is in the city visiting Miss Minnie Carson.

Mrs. Judge Brady is visiting her sister Mrs. March, at Coburg, Lane county.

Mrs. W. J. Van Schuyver returns by the Oregon this evening from her Boston trip.

Hon. E. P. McCornack, clerk of the board of school land commissioners is sojourning at the Dalles.

Mrs. Watson and daughters, Misses Anna and [illegible] Watson of the Dalles, are visiting friends here.

Miss A. Lawrence and Miss Nellie Sloan leave this morning for a summer's stay at Clatsop beach.

F. Van Fridagh and Fred Patrick left by the Columbia to attend St. Augustine's college at Benicia.

Mr. L. O. Thorpe has returned from Astoria, after several months' sojourn and will hereafter reside here.

Miss Annie Ridger of Jacksonville was a guest last week of Judge Tolman's, corner Eighth and Morrison sts.

Mrs. [illegible] Ainsworth and family left Thursday morning for Gravelly lake, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. L. E. W. Keyser, chief clerk in the U. S. engineer's office, returned yesterday from a trip to Yaquina bay.

Mrs. W. C. Dement and Miss Kate Dement, of Oregon City, returns by this evening's steamer from a visit to California.

Mrs. J. E. Woods, of Dayton, Oregon, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Reynolds, of this city, returned home on Monday.

Mr. J. W. Cochran and family of Vancouver leave this morning to spend the summer at the famous ship harbor resort on Puget sound.

Mr. R. Newcomb, of Roseburg, the newly-elected recorder of the grand lodge of A. O. U. W., has removed to this city with his family.

The Misses Tolger and Ingalls, who have been visiting friends at The Dalles during the past ten days, returned home Thursday evening.

Mr. Gervais Purcell, who has had charge of the alignment of tunnels on the O. R. & N. Co.'s road, left by the Columbia for a visit to San Francisco.

The following Portlanders are at the Ocean house, Yaquina bay: Mrs. L. E. W. Keyser and family, Lieut. and Mrs. P. M. Price and Mr and Mrs. Fred. Currier.

Mr. C. A. Hayden, for some time past cashier of the O. R. & N. Co. at the Dalles, has removed to Dayton, W. T., where he will fill the duties of agent for the company.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Plymale, of Jacksonville paid Portland a visit this week. They attended the Grand lodge A. O. U. W. at Salem and returned home Wednesday.

Mrs. D. W. Wakefield left Friday morning for San Francisco, where she will spend the summer. She was accompanied by Miss Wakefield, who goes to Mills seminary for a year.

Mr. Wm. J. Clarke and Miss Sallie Clarke started Thursday morning for a summer trip to southern Oregon. They will while gone visit the wonders and sights of that part of our state.

Miss Bowles of Nashville, Tenn., has been here for some days past. She is a lover of nature and will take back with her a well filled portfolio of Oregon's flora, as well as many other curiosities. Miss Bowles is now in eastern Oregon.

Miss Laura M. Adams has resigned the office of musical director in the Willamette university, and has accepted the position of teacher of music in the Wasco Independent academy. Miss Adams is a graduate of an eastern conservatory of music, and is well known as an accomplished, thorough and successful instructor.

A Los Angeles exchange in speaking of a recent performance of the comedy of "Our Girls" in that city, has the following to say of two former residents of Portland: "Mr. G. A. Dobinson in the leading role of Tony Judson, the young sculptor, carried himself through many trying situations like the true artist that he is. We will do him the credit to say that his love-making was the most realistic we have ever seen on the boards; though it is no more than just to award half the glory to Miss Sotera Witherell, who, as Clara Merton, certainly did her part of it heroically. In the second scene Mr. Dobinson created a genuine sensation by his by-play with the baby. Miss Witherell here ably abetted him also, making the most motherly of young mothers. Miss Witherell's acting throughout was natural and her perfect enunciation deserves especial praise."

SOCIAL NOTES.

The engagement of Mr. Chas. Nickell, editor of the Jacksonville Times, to Miss Ella Prim, daughter of ex-Chief Justice P. P. Prim, is announced.

An exceedingly pleasant party was given to Capt. and Mrs. Allen Noyes of the bark Coloma, by Mrs. Brackett, at her residence, No. 87 Seventh street, Saturday evening.

London Truth unkindly prints entire a letter asking the paper to notice the dress worn by Miss Bessie Batch, an American young woman, at the queen's drawing-room. More editors than Truth's have had such letters, but most are kinder.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howe celebrated their crystal wedding at their residence near Dallas. A large number of relatives and friends were present, including the parents of both Mr. and Mrs. Howe, and a most enjoyable time was experienced. The presents were numerous and very handsome.

Last night a very pleasant party was given at the residence of Mr. T. J. Matlock, corner G and Tenth streets, East Portland, in honor of the seventeenth anniversary of the birthday of his daughter, Miss Grace Matlock. About thirty friends of the young lady were present, and passed an enjoyable evening.

Tuesday evening an enjoyable whist party was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. Weeks at their residence, No. 151, Lownsdale street. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mackenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fishel, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pittock, Mrs. Tainter and Miss Ida Johnson of Worcester, Mass., Miss Ada Cavaline, Miss Myra Scott, Miss Ella Stephens, Miss Dekum, Miss Lamson, Messrs. Chas. Hale, A. Gatemans, Geo. G. Gammans, F. Churchbill and Mr. Lansing.

On Thursday a private picnic was held on the grounds adjacent to Judge J. H. Woodward's residence, on the river side about one mile south of East Portland. The ladies provided bountifully all that could be wished for, including fresh cream and hot coffee—not forgetting a liberal supply of excellent doughnuts made by a down-east lady visitor. Those attending reached the grounds by the Jefferson street ferry route in carriages, also by pleasure boats, the latter being used in the evening to while away the closing day in pleasure boating on the Willamette. Among those present were Mrs. Healy, Mrs. P. Churchill, Mrs. S. E. Tainter, Mrs. J. N. Dolph, Mrs. W. W. Page, Mrs. G. W. Phelps, jr., Mrs. Judge Bronaugh, Mrs. G. W. Pittock, Miss Ida Johnson, Mrs. Geo. MacKenzie, Mrs. R. Weeks, Mrs. W. T. Shanahan, Mrs. S. G. Allen and last though not least, Mrs. Judge Woodward, who was instrumental in providing the coffee.

PRIVATE PICNIC.

Tuesday evening a party of ladies and gentlemen of East Portland chartered the steamer Washington, and went to Vancouver. Arriving there the company proceeded to the park, where dancing was indulged in. Among those present were Mrs. Le Nottage, Mrs. S. Schmeer, Mrs. Tingley and Misses Lizzie Ewart, Mary Daly, Lola Baily, Edith Bellinger, Imogene Bybee, Maggie Nicholson, A. Covlat, Maud Smith, Nattie Sheffield, Messrs. H. D. McGuire, W. W. McGuire, Ed. Wheeler, C. Forbes, J. M. Pittinger, Wm. Welch, J. Pape, A. B. Cox, Frank Logan, Julian Logan, E. C. Beard and Mr. Mendenhall.

SILVER WEDDING.

On the 1st instant Judge and Mrs. L. F. Mosher, of Roseburg, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their wedding day. About 100 guests, including the best people of Douglas county, were present. On behalf of a large number of friends, Mr. Geo. Kimball presented the hosts with an elegant silver tea set accompanying the gift with a neat speech. Hon. A. F. Campbell read an original poem of much literary merit. The presents were numerous and embraced everything in the catalogue of silverware. The following letter was received from Judge and Mrs. Deady and read to the company:

Dear Friends—Please accept the accompanying trifle with our good wishes and sincere regrets that we cannot accept your kind invitation to be present at your silver wedding on Friday evening, the 1st proximo, as we were at the celebration of your marriage twenty-five years ago. Hoping that the groom may never forget how on that evening he sang to his fair young bride in the language of the poet of young love,

"Believe me, if all those endearing young charms,
Which I gaze on so fondly to-day"

etc., we remain very truly and sincerely yours,

MATTHEW P. and LUCY A. DEADY.

Letters were also received from ex-Senator and Mrs. J. K. Kelly, Col. and Mrs. W. H. Effinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. D[illegible] of this city, from Judge and Mrs. P. P. Prim of Jacksonville and from Hon. A. Bush of Salem.

LUNCH PARTY.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Dr. H. E. Jones gave a lunch party—an elegant affair, very favorably commented on by her guests for the splendid arrangement, the tasteful [illegible] exquisite China. Among those present were: Mrs. Judge Geo. H. Williams, Mrs. Gen. L. L. Story, Mrs. D. W. Burnside, Mrs. R. R. Green, Mrs. J. N. Dolph, Mrs. Judge [illegible] and Miss [illegible] of San Francisco, Mrs. Theo. Wygant, Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. D. R. B. Wilson, Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. C. A. Dolph, Mrs. Dr. [illegible] of San Francisco, Mrs. C. H. Prescott, Mrs. Smith of Kansas City, Mrs. G. P. Frank, Mrs. E. J. DeHart and Mrs. [illegible].

FAREWELL PARTY.

Mr. Martin Hecht, of the firm of Hecht Bros. & Co., left for his old home in Boston by Friday morning's steamer. During a residence of eight years in Portland he became deservedly popular. A number of his friends arranged for a farewell dinner, and gathered at the residence of Mrs. [illegible] on [illegible] street, near Stark, taking him completely by surprise. Mr. Phil Loewengart was master of ceremonies and executed the duties of the position with good taste. Beginning at 11 o'clock, the party [illegible] and enjoyed a fine [illegible]. [illegible] goodbye speeches [illegible], and the health of Mr. Hecht was drank in many bumpers. Among those present were Messrs. [illegible], P. Loewengart, Jos. Liebman, A. Mayer, [illegible], Ed. Ackerman, H. [illegible], Mark A. Mayer, [illegible] Hirsch, L. Fleishner, A. Oberdorfer, [illegible], F. O. Regensburger, M. Meyer, Martin [illegible], [illegible] Frohman, Sam Simon, S. H. Greenberg, [illegible] and Martin Cohn.

SURPRISE PARTY.

Among the pleasant events of last week was the surprise party given in honor of Rev. M. [illegible], pastor of Hall street church, at the residence of Mr. [illegible] H. Thompson, corner Sixth and Harrison streets. The evening was passed in singing and social converse. Before the party dispersed [illegible] gave an address, speaking kindly of [illegible] acquaintance with Mr. Judy [illegible], and thanking Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for opening their house for the party. Mr. Judy responded in a very feeling manner, saying it had been indeed a surprise to him and was entirely pleasant. Among those present were Mr. [illegible], Judge and Mrs. [illegible], Rev. and Mrs. [illegible], Rev. J. L. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible], Mr. and Mrs. Wm. HIS PECULIAR MANNER OF DOING BUSINESS.

A History of a Shipment Made to the Interior Merchants' Agency by Hungate & Co. of Almota.

[illegible] Hungate [illegible] Almota, W. T. [illegible] wrote to the Interior Merchants' Agency [illegible] 2,000 [illegible] to be sold in the [illegible] by Farish, the manager [illegible] of the company at the rate of $[illegible] per barrel. The ruling price [illegible] at that time [illegible] Hungate [illegible] were so well pleased with the [illegible] Farish [illegible] that they [illegible] the same boat [illegible]. Farish sold [illegible] of his [illegible] Mr. J. A. Hungate, of the firm [illegible] Farish [illegible] of the [illegible] Hungate was a little surprised at [illegible] Hungate further [illegible] Hungate that Farish [illegible] returned [illegible] Farish [illegible] the market [illegible].

Mr. Farish, who was [illegible] represent [illegible]. He says, however, that [illegible] Hungate [illegible] He further states that [illegible] he realized [illegible].

The above was [illegible] Farish was [illegible] Hungate appears [illegible] until the [illegible] relatives in San Francisco to pay [illegible]. Farish left [illegible] Friday morning, ostensibly for the purpose of securing money. His creditors show no disposition to begin criminal proceedings as long as a chance remains to recover the amount of their claims. He has no money or unencumbered property. The first entry in a sort of journal, the only book of accounts in his office, as far as can be ascertained, is "Jan. 19th. Commenced business without capital." It is alleged that on or before this, Farish caused to be remitted to consignors more than the market price of cereals sent to him for sale. A few days ago [illegible] returned to a [illegible] $1 per barrel for 2500 barrels of flour, which afterwards realized him only $3 [illegible] San Francisco.

[illegible] THE OREGONIAN:

[illegible] Dillard [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible] in which he [illegible] not made one single definite charge whose substantiation would disgrace me, [illegible] him to put his charges [illegible]. While I am sure that the public is not interested in our petty quarrels here in this little village, yet he seems to think that the public is so interested, and now he must be plain and assume some responsibility. The public will not condemn me unheard, and I ask for a fair, impartial hearing. I stand connected with a body of men whose integrity and reliability make me glad to depend upon their acquaintance. He has slandered them and me, and he is obliged now to bring the evidence before some tribunal to which I am amenable, or he is a coward and a calumniator.

DECISION BY JUDGE DEADY.

that the money received on them was lost in the wreck of the Brother Johnathan, unless it is assumed that he took it with him to San Francisco, which is possible; but in that case the money would be at his risk, and if lost, chargeable to him.

But admitting that this $9000 came to Logan's hands by the transfer of the checks to a third person before he went to San Francisco, and that it was not lost at sea, it does not follow that it was not disbursed according to law.

The annual appropriations for the Indians of middle Oregon at the Warmspring agency for special objects, in pursuance of Articles 2, 3 and 4 of the treaty aforesaid (12 Stat. 964) was $17,600, or $4400 a quarter, of which the $5781 01 reported by Logan as on hand on March 31, 1865, did not include more than $1690 37, and $9000 added to this would make but little more than was required to be expended under these heads during the quarter ending June 30, 1865. But the agency was actually conducted four months upon these sums of $5781 01, the balance on hand at the beginning of the second quarter of 1865, and the $9000 supposed to have been received on the superintendent's checks in May of that year.

But, under the circumstances, it is possible that some portion of this money remained unexpended at his death, and may have been lost with him or misappropriated by some one or in some way. But the probability is that the amount was duly disbursed in the business of the agency, unless some portion of it was lost on the Brother Johnathan, and that by far the greater portion of it was so disbursed, I think there is no doubt.

But to get the legal evidence of this fact and produce it in court at this late day would be very difficult, if not impossible, and cost the defendant more than the amount of any probable deficiency.

Under the circumstances, it is much more just and reasonable that the plaintiff should be denied a new trial rather than that the defendant should incur the risk of having a judgment rendered against her for $7000 or $8000, because by the death of Logan and the inexcusable delay of the former it is no longer possible to make legal proof of facts and circumstances as they actually transpired.

Another reason against allowing this motion, under the circumstances, is this: these bonds having been taken upon a larger condition than the law requires, to wit: that the principal would account for all money and property which came into his hands whether as Indian agent or otherwise—and as alleged, on the absolute demand of the commissioner of Indian affairs—it is doubtful under the authorities cited and commented on in the opinion herein of December 15, 1879, (U. S. v Tingey, 5 Pet. 115; Hawes v Marchant, 1 Cur. 140) if they are legal. In my own judgment, they ought to be held valid, in any event, as to money and property received by the principal under them, as Indian agent, but no farther. U. S. v. Bradly 10 Pet., 343.

The motion for a new trial is denied and the defendant must have judgment that she go hence without day.

Rufus Mallory, for the U. S.
Seneca Smith, for the defendant.

The United State v. H. P. Isaacs—No. 421—Action at law.

The motion for a new trial in this case rests upon the same grounds as the preceding one and is denied for the same reason.

Rufus Mallory for the U. S.
Seneca Smith, for the defendant.

The United v. O. S. Savage—No. 417—Action at law.

In this case the motion for a new trial is based upon the further ground that when the order was made in pursuance of the stipulation of the parties, including this case within the verdict in the U. S. v. Humason, there was no answer to the complaint on file, and therefore there ought not to have been a verdict for the defendant.

But it is admitted that there was a verbal stipulation between the counsel for the plaintiff and defendant, to the effect that this case should abide the result of the case against Humason; and this stipulation was admitted by the district attorney in open court when the order was made, although he protested that he ought not to be bound by it, as it would not have been made if he had thought the Humason case would have gone off on a technical failure of proof of the execution of the bonds, as it did.

But the court ruled that if the stipulation was admitted, the case must follow the disposition of the Humason one and thereupon the order was made without other or further objection; but it then appearing that the defendant had failed to answer and it being suggested by the court that the record would show error in the proceeding if there was a verdict for the defendant without an answer controverting the material allegations of the complaint, an order was made without objection giving the defendant leave to file such an answer, as of some day between the filing of the complaint and the trial, which he did or attempted to do, as of February 16.

Objection is taken to this proceeding as being irregular, but in what the irregularity consists is not apparent. The foundation of it was the stipulation of the parties, and when that was admitted and its binding effect considered, what followed was a mere matter of form and even had the consent of the parties at the time.

It might have been as well to have waited until final judgment had been given in the Humason case, and if that was in favor of the defendant, then to have moved to dismiss this one. But in some form the defendant was entitled under that stipulation to have his case share the fate of the one against Humason.

But admitting the regularity of the proceedings thus far, counsel for the plaintiff insists that the verdict ought to be set aside in this case because the answer of the defendant does not controvert or deny the execution of the bonds, but in effect admits it.

The answer of Savage contains a denial of the execution of the bonds "except as hereinafter stated," and then "admits that at the dates mentioned he did along with his co-obligors mentioned, make a bond to the plaintiff," but does not "remember" the penalty or condition thereof.

It may be admitted that this is not a good denial of the execution or condition of the bond, but it is a question whether it is not sufficient to prevent judgment for want of an answer. If the plaintiff considered the answer not such an one, in this or other respects, as the defendant was entitled to file under the order of the court, he should have moved to strike it out.

Besides, the object of making the order allowing the defendant to file an answer nunc pro tunc, was not so much, if at all, to compel him to make a defense to the action, as to give him the privilege of so doing, so as to secure to himself beyond a peradventure, the benefit of his stipulation, that his case should abide the event of the other one.

The stipulation was made without an answer being filed, and virtually suspended proceedings in the case; and if the defendant had seen proper, he might have waited until there was a final judgment in the case against Humason, and if such judgment was for the defendant, then moved on his stipulation to dismiss the action against him, without answering the complaint at all.

But apart from the attempted denial of the execution of the bonds the answer is a sufficient defense to the action, as it contains an allegation to the effect that Logan faithfully kept the condition of his bonds. That is sufficient to support the verdict and prevent the record from being erroneous on its face, and that was the object of allowing an answer to be filed at all.

These are all the special grounds on which a new trial is asked in this case, and they are not sufficient.

For this and the reasons given in U. S. vs Humason, the motion is denied.

Rufus Mallory for the U. S.
W. H. Effinger for the defendant.

FOURTH ANNUAL VICTORY

For D. M. Osborne & Co. Harvesting Machinery at the Oregon State Fair for 1881.

SALEM, OR., July 11, 1881.

This certifies that D. M. Osborne & Co. were awarded first premiums on their Twine Binding Harvester, No. [illegible] Reaper and Mower, No. Three Independent Reaper, No. Two Front Cut Mower, and No. Five Rear Cut Mower, at the Fair of 1881.

E. M. WAITE, Secty.

The above speaks for itself. The competition was between the "Osborne" and "Woods" Twine Binders. The McCormick and Marsh-Deering acknowledged defeat, and did not enter for premiums; but found time to exhibit on the Fair Grounds, but attracted no attention whatever. The Osborne was put to a very severe test, elevating and binding green wheat, successfully repeating the operation until the committee expressed perfect satisfaction. The defeat of the Woods binder was rough and hard to bear, but the following from Mr. H. A. Davis of Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, is a much grander victory for the Osborne.

HARRISBURG, OR., July 16, 1881.

Messrs. D. M. Osborne & Co., Portland, Or.—Gentlemen: After two days' hard labor and extreme vexation with a "Woods Twine Binder," having the assistance of an expert, I have failed to make it go. To-day I concluded to try an Osborne, and I am happy to say that from its entrance into the grain up to this writing it has not failed for one moment to do perfect work, cutting, binding and elevating. And before this reaches you my order will be signed with one of your machines, as I consider them the best and only machine on which we farmers can fully depend. My men will all cheerfully sign with me as true friends to the Osborne.

H. A. DAVIS.

The San Francisco Tonnage Situation.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 22.—The Commercial News says under "Freights and Charters": The week under review closes, as has been frequently the case of late, with the port bare of disengaged tonnage. A week ago two vessels were in port seeking, and one arrived after our last review was published. These have all been taken up at rates that show a healthy market, in spite of the large fleet still due which is expected by some to weaken freights. There have also been a number of arrivals under charter during the week, but the ships dispatched have prevented the list on berth from increasing to any extent. With a total of 1,350,851 tons for shipment, the freight market has an element of strength not easily overcome, particularly as the policy of holding on to wheat last year resulted so unsatisfactorily to producers. The fact that there is a large amount of tonnage on the way is not therefore a bear element in the freights when the needs of the trade are considered, and while there may be times when an accumulation of tonnage will weaken the market temporarily, the position is nevertheless one that gives good ground for the faith exporters have in a high range of freights for the next four or five months at least. The latest charters reported are the British ship City of Athens, 1199 tons wheat to Liverpool direct, £3 17s 6d; British bark Dumfriesshire, 1221 tons wheat to Cork, U. K., £3 12s 6d, prior to arrival.

The Boston Wool Market

BOSTON, July 22.—Wool transactions for the week aggregate upwards of two million pounds, which indicates a fair business for what is very generally admitted to be a very quiet week. Receipts are very large, comprising about seven million pounds of domestic, making the total receipts for the last 3 weeks nearly twenty million pounds. Prices remain without change. Manufacturers are disposed to bear the market, but have failed to bring about any further concession, as most holders have considerable confidence in the future of the market. Sales of Ohio and Pennsylvania have been 42@43c for X and XX, 44@45c for XX and above, medium and No. 1. Ohio has been sold at 45@47c. Michigan X 39@40c. Some 150,000 pounds selling at 40@41c for choice lots and best Michigan generally held at this price. Combing and delaine fleeces are firm with sales of No. 1 at 47@48c; fine Michigan delaine 44c@46c; fine Ohio delaine 45@46c. Unwashed combing ranges 27@34c according to quality and some small lots of coarse combings sold at 40c. Unwashed fleeces remain firm with sales at 25@31c for fine, 27@33c for medium. California wool quiet with sales of spring at 25@32c, pulled wools quiet, at unchanged rates. There is fair inquiry for Australian on a basis of 88@89c; scoured and other foreign in moderate request. On the whole, the market remained steady during the week for all kinds of wool.

The Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.—Breadstuffs, firm; wheat, 9s 8d@9s 11d per ctl, Cal average white 9s 7d@9s 9d; red western, spg, 9s 5d@9s 8d. Receipts of wheat for the past three days, 175,000 centals, including 140,000 American.

LIVERPOOL, July 22.—A leading grain circular: Wheat firm, at various spots; markets with general improvement. The tendency of cargoes in all positions is firm. Off coast there is better inquiry, which is improving. On spot since Tuesday fair business has been done in wheat at full currencies. At to-day's market there was an average attendance, with a firm tone and a good consumptive demand, which advanced from 1d to 2d. Flour, firm, fair request, choice sprits and white improved, 6d.

Chicago Wheat Market.

OUR EXPORTS.

It is certainly gratifying to all true Americans to know that of late years our exports have largely exceeded our imports, not alone in such staple articles as wheat and beef, but in almost every branch of industry. Ten years ago nearly all the perfumery and toilet articles used in this country were imported from Europe; to-day we not only manufacture for ourselves, but are large exporters to South America, China, Japan and the Colonies. The immense growth of this particular industry on the Pacific Coast is simply astonishing. Steven, who is now one of the largest cologne makers in the world, last year exported some 2,000,000 bottles of his famous Yosemite Cologne. For sale by Woodard, Clarke & Co., Portland, Oregon.

OPEN LETTER FROM M. YOUNG, OF GERVAIS.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: My attention having been called to a "yellow poster" which is being circulated by the Wood's Twine Binder Agents, which in my statement of the field trial of self-binding harvesters, which took place on my farm June 21st, is published very differently from what I signed it. I did not say that the Wood's Binder pulled it easier than the other machines would with three horses. I did not say that the Wood's Twine did not clog in the present, for I know that it did. I did not say that the Wood's Binder did better work than the other two machines competing. I did not say that the Wood's Binder left less scattered grain where the bundles lay than the other machines did. I did not say that I would be qualified to any statement made. I did say, however, that all the machines did better work than I expected they would.

In conclusion I would say that a large portion of my published statement was erased by me before signing, and no one was authorized to make any such statement over my signature. While I consider the different machines competing did fair work, there is still room for improvement, and my sole object in making any statement whatever was in the interest of the farmers and not the machine men. I think for some of the statements made relative to the field decidedly too highly colored and should be taken with considerable allowance.

M. YOUNG.
